Joke Corner

Four men are in the hospital waiting room because their wives are having babies. A nurse goes up to the first guy and says, "Congratulations! You're the father of twins."

"That's odd," answers the man. "I work for the Minnesota Twins!"

A nurse says to the second guy, "Congratulations! You're the father of triplets!"

"That's weird," answers the second man. "I work for the 3M Company!"

A nurse tells the third man, "Congratulations! You're the father of quadruplets!"

"That's strange," he answers. "I work for the Four Seasons Hotel!"

The last man is groaning and banging his head against the wall. "What's wrong?" the others ask.

"I work for 7 Up!"

Volume 10 Issue 2

Hello Friends,

I want to apologize for the newsletter getting out so late this month. I just got the intro written after the Memorial Day Holiday. After most long weekends, you would think we were off for a week. We have been through a lot of changes the last two years with some people leaving that were in key positions that have not been filled. James Butler, Chantell Hicks, Brandi Morgan and I are doing our best to get everyone taken care of in a timely manner. We have had a hard time finding help for sales and our work force. With that being said, if you know someone looking for an opportunity, have them come by our office. God grant us strength to carry the load.

As I have so many times before, I want to thank our great Lord for the moisture we continue to receive on what seems to be a regular basis. With that being said, I know there are parts of the panhandle that have come up on the short side in the rain gauge. I just know it is nice to be able to see the chance for rain in the forecast. I will keep giving praise for this blessing along with all the others our Lord gives us. I personally have so many things to be grateful for, I could not write them all down if I had a week. Lucky for us we don't have to write them down for our Lord knows just with a simple prayer of thanks. God, thank you for all of our blessings!!!

Thank you for some more input and suggestions on some things we needed to keep and add. Chantell will be making some minor adjustments over the next few months. Please let us know what you think of the changes.

Personal Comment: I was visiting with a friend who works Vacation Bible School in a small town in Oklahoma for a few days. She told me they get about 80 kids each day in one of the poorest areas. She was telling me some of the conditions these kids live in. You would think it was a third world country. I told her it makes me angry how we get asked to fund these organizations to help all these children in foreign countries when we have terrible living conditions right on our own backyard. I really think we need to take care of the people here in our country first. Then show the rest of the world how great caring love is. I mean how about creating more jobs here and encourage the family unit. How can we help others countries when we have so many problems right here at home? Please Lord help us all, to help those who might be down on their knees and needs a helping hand to get back up. God Bless all who help those with needs. I would like to hear from you. Please send any comments to me at jerryj@qssifloors.com. I promise I will respond to them as soon as possible.

All of us at Quality Carpets & Flooring would like to remind you of the Holidays in June: June 14th Flag Day, June 18th Father's Day, June 21st Summer Begins.

Respectfully,
Jerry D. Johnson

June 2017

1st Poor period for planting. Kill plant pests, clear fencerows, or clear land.

2nd-4th Sow grains and forage crops. Plant flowers. Favorable for planting peas, beans, tomatoes, and other fall crops bearing aboveground.

5th-6th Plant seedbeds. Extra good for planting fall lettuce, cabbage, cauliflower, collards, and other leafy vegetables. All aboveground crops planted now will do well.

7th-9th Poor planting days, cut hay or do general farm work.

10th-11th Plant late beets, potatoes, onions, carrots, and other root crops.

12th-14th Poor days for planting. Kill plant pests, spray, fertilize, do general farm work.

15th-16th Set strawberry plants. Excellent for any vine crops such as beans, peas, and cucumbers. Good days for transplanting. Favorable time for planting late root crops.

17th-18th Cut hay or do plowing on these barren days.

19th-20th Good days for transplanting. Good days for planting root crops.

21st-22nd Seeds planted now tend to rot in ground.

23rd-24th Excellent for sowing seedbeds and flower gardens. Plant tomatoes, beans, peppers, corn, cotton, and other aboveground crops on these most fruitful days.

25th-29th Poor period for planting. Kill plant pests, clear fencerows, or clear land.

30th Sow grains and forage crops. Plant flowers. Favorable for planting peas, beans, tomatoes, and other fall crops bearing aboveground.

Flooring History

In many early homes, the floor was just a patch of ground. This is still true in some parts of the world, such as places in Africa where the weather is always warm. Dirt is a good, inexpensive surface. Hay, straw, and cow dung are sometimes strewn on the floor and tamped down as people walk on it, creating a surface almost as hard as cement. The first known use for mint in Europe was as a room deodorizer. The herb was strewn across the floors to cover the smell. Stepping on the mint helped to spread its scent through the room.

We are so fortunate to have actual floors!

Happy Father's Day

To all the men out there that are biological fathers or to those that have stood in the gap and played the part.
